Rumors Of Impending Nazi Drive Bring Quick Military Action

APPREHENSION IS DECREASING TODAY

Despite Rumors, Observers Not Convinced Germany To Launch Drive

By J. T. JESSURUN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 15.—With the Netherlands and Belgium on a war footing and ready to resist any German invasion should the blow come, qualified Dutch sources expressed belief today that the storm of apprehension is blowing over as far as the low countries are concerned.

Rumors that the Reich planned a quick push against the two small nations brought quick military action that produced a joint standing army of approximately a million and a half men, ready to hurl themselves at the Nazi legions the moment they crossed the border.

In view of the Belgio-Dutch preparedness measures and weather conditions which would hinder an attack, it was claimed, an assault such as that rumored to have been contemplated by Germany would have "no reasonable chance of success."

Denmark May Be Target

Informed quarters expressed the view that a German attack against Denmark, aimed at tightening Germany's control of the entrance to the Baltic Sea, is more likely than an assault against Belgium and Holland.

Amsterdam newspapers assured the public that no acute danger threatened Holland. The population of Limbourg Province bordering the Reich accepted the situation calmly.

Blustery Weekend Brings Winter Back

Heavy Wind Accompanied By Rain And Hail Precede Drop In Temperature

After a blustery week end, when the wind at times approached the velocity of a gale, accompanied by rain and hail, winter again returned to the local district during the night accompanied by a drop in temperature and more snow.

Some damage was done when loose articles were hurled about and dead limbs were blown from trees. Some street lights were put out of commission by the wind in various sections of the city. It was noticed last evening, but no serious damage was reported.

Sweden And Norway Threatened By Soviet For Aid To Finland

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Jan. 15.—Waving her cudgels at Sweden and Norway Soviet Russia today threatened "undesirable consequences" if those two Scandinavian nations persist in aiding Finland in her war against the U. S. S. R.

The Moscow government revealed that formal Soviet protests against their aid to Finland had been sent to Sweden and Norway and that the nature of their replies had caused "danger" to arise.

Carrying the war of words a step further, Russia charged semi-officially that Sweden and Norway had not offered sufficient resistance to alleged attempts by western powers—meaning Britain and France, although they were not named—to "inveigle Sweden and Norway into war against the Soviet."

Replies Not Satisfactory

The diplomatic exchanges were made public by the Tass (Russian) news agency, which commented that the replies from Stockholm and Oslo were not satisfactory to Moscow.

Responsibility For Alarmist Rumors Is Denied By Germany

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Nazi Germany today denied responsibility for the week-end wave of alarmist rumors in Europe, ascribing them to Franco-British war-mongering. It again warned Belgium and Holland to safeguard their neutrality at all costs.

The Reich is "alert and watchful," a spokesman declared, and is fully alive to the fact that Britain and France are carrying on a "dangerous flirtation" with the low countries.

In particular, Germany is watching for any sign of Belgio-Dutch "connivance" with the Allies—a contingency which Berlin has frequently warned Belgium and Holland to avoid.

No Move Indicated

In the absence of any concrete indications in Germany that any major move affecting neutral nations is imminent, authentic quarters clearly indicated their displeasure over alarmist reports and actions emanating in the Netherlands and Belgium.

Official spokesmen strongly deprecated the Dutch ambassador's recent consultation with Premier Edouard Daladier in Paris and condemned Dutch and Belgian military precautionary measures—all looked upon here as moves incompatible with strict neutrality.

The whole week-end campaign of nerves was officially branded as (Continued On Page Two)

Harrington Says W.P.A. Program To Last Many Years

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—No matter what party may come to power nationally, "WPA is in the United States to stay for at least 20 years" in the opinion of Colonel Francis C. Harrington, federal administrator of the Works Progress Administration.

"A change in administration won't change unemployment," Harrington told a meeting of the mayor's club of Massachusetts. "Only a far-reaching change in the economic system will change this problem, and distribute more equitably our work opportunities, we'll still have the problem of unemployment."

Harrington admitted that a federal dole granted through states to the unemployed might be cheaper than WPA but he added, "but it means the destruction of morale and self-respect for the relief recipient."

Reporting that there was no end in sight for WPA, Harrington said: "There's no use kidding ourselves, we're in for a long pull."

He defended WPA not only as a relief measure but for its contribution to the nation's assets.

"The WPA has created assets—tangible assets," he asserted listing new bridges, roads, swimming pools, sewers, parks, and playgrounds built by WPA labor.

Balancing cost against these tangible assets, Harrington said, put WPA in a different light than an outright dole.

"When you figure in these assets, the WPA is cheaper than the dole," he summed up.

Britain Ready To Give Aid To Low Countries

Hears Reports Of Possible Nazi Drive Against Belgium And The Netherlands

LONDON OPINION DIVIDED ON REPORT

Stockholm Report Says Hitler Preparing Move To Seek Quick Decision

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Amid rising tension caused by reports of an imminent German drive against Belgium and the Netherlands, the British government moved rapidly today to throw its weight into the scales on behalf of the low countries.

An official announcement by the war office that all leaves for officers and soldiers of the British Expeditionary Force in France were "temporarily suspended" was regarded as Britain's reply to the latest German move in a new "white war of nerves."

Undoubtedly on the strength of information obtained in authoritative quarters, London newspapers featured the cancellation of British leaves as a gesture of "strategic sympathy" with the military decisions of Belgium and Holland to strengthen their defenses.

Opinion Divided

Nevertheless, opinion in London remained divided as to whether a Nazi invasion of the low countries is imminent or whether the Germans are "bluffing."

The first edition of the London Evening News expressed the opinion that the "situation shows slight relaxation."

British admiralty and air ministry officials gave no indication as to whether suspension of naval and air force leaves is contemplated. An air ministry statement was promised later.

The Belgio-Dutch military measures supported by Britain were those bringing all Dutch army stations to war-time strength and the mustering of two additional reserve army classes in Belgium to bring that country to the verge of total mobilization.

In a dispatch from Stockholm the London Daily Mail stated that foreign correspondents in Berlin expect a German invasion of Holland within 24 hours. This report stated: "News telephoned from Berlin early this (Monday) morning indicated (Continued On Page Two)

Seek To Remove Barrier To Start Of Big Project

Damage Release Sought So That Big Run Work Can Be Started

Attorney Gilbert E. Long, assistant to the city solicitor, and Glenn R. Throop, city engineer, will confer with an abutting property-owner today relative to the proposed improvement of the Big Run, which, if carried out will result in the expenditure of approximately $111,000 of federal and city funds and provide five months work for 350 employees of the WPA. The city's share of the money would be approximately $15,000.

Efforts during the conference will be made by the city officials to secure a damage release from the property-owner.

The present council was informed several days ago that federal funds were available for beginning the work.

The solons decided not to permit the project to start unless property-owners release the city from probable damages.

It is proposed by the city that the WPA employes improve the stream from the mouth of the Shenango upstream, 3,000 feet.

The sanitary sewer will be relocated, stream widened to 66 feet and the embankments ripped apart.

When this is completed, city officials pointed out the menace of the South Side being flooded, would be minimized.

It is hoped that the conference will result in the project getting under way

Wind And Rain Cause Damage In Western Penna.

Rain And Gale Of Sunday Change To Snow Today, Power Lines Affected

GALE UNROOFED SEVERAL HOMES

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 15.—The rain and furious gales which swept western Pennsylvania all day yesterday, today changed to snow, accompanied by sub-freezing temperatures.

Gathering near-hurricane force in the Fayette county district, the gale yesterday was reported to have done considerable damage, unroofing houses, smashing windows, snapping electric cables and flattening signboards. The wind was reported to have reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour at times.

Power Lines Affected

Many sections of Uniontown were in darkness and church organs silenced as the result of power failure. Even service stations were unable to operate.

At Bellevue, in Allegheny county, high tension wires were flung to the ground, plunging the community into darkness last night on at least two occasions.

Only a few minutes after the Salvation Army had completed its services at Uniontown in the county jail, the skylight collapsed and windows were smashed in the bullpen and the women's quarters.

Four Hundred Die In Fire In Japanese City

Blaze Levels 3,000 Houses And Stores In Town 100 Miles From Tokyo

(International News Service)

TOKYO, Jan. 15.—At least 400 persons were estimated to have perished today at Shizuoka, in a fire, the largest in the city's history, which brought untold destruction, leveling some 3,000 houses and stores.

The Shizuoka railway station was wiped out and the main-line railway and all communications were cut off.

Efforts to check spread of the flames appeared futile and the fire spread through the city hours after it first broke out.

Damage, if any, suffered by seven American and British firms with property at Shizuoka, including the M. J. B. concern of San Francisco, Socony-Vacuum and National Cash Register, could not be established immediately. Likewise the fate of American tea firm properties, including those of the Hillyer Brothers firm of Chicago, was not known.

Shizuoka is about 100 miles southwest of Tokyo.

Russian Planes Drop Nine Bombs In Swedish Area

(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 15.—Foreign warplanes which roared over Swedish territory, dropping nine bombs, were Soviet Russian craft, Swedish authorities strongly hinted today.

One of the bombs struck the island of Kallax near the Swedish city of Lulea while eight others blasted holes in ice-covered waters nearby. No injuries or damage resulted.

While the foreign office said "unidentified airplanes" violated Swedish territory, the Lulea chief of police identified splinters of the bombs as Russian. He said he found Russian characters on the bomb fragments.

New Plane Raids Made On Finland By Red Bombers

Aerial Attacks Are Continued By Soviet Fliers—Seaports Are Bombed

MANY RAIDS MADE DURING WEEK-END

Extensive Damage Is Done At Some Points By Plane Attacks, Is Report

By PETER DE HEMMER GUDME
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HELSINKI, Jan. 15.—Soviet bombing planes raided Finland again today after a week-end of aerial activities apparently designed to wreck the country's seaports.

Many bombs were dropped in the new attacks, but owing to disrupted telephone and telegraph communications it was impossible to obtain any estimate of casualties or damages.

Today's raids were directed against seaports, railway junctions and stations with the apparent aim of demoralizing Finland's transportation system.

Terror Created

The aerial "Blitzkrieg" carried out over Saturday and Sunday brought terror to scores of Finnish cities and towns and wrecked the evacuated residence of United States Minister H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld, outside Helsinki.

Latest reports from southern Finland indicated that damage caused by Red air raids over the week end was more serious than first estimated. Ninety bombs were dropped on the Bothnian Bay port of Vasa alone.

Fire caused by incendiary bombs still raged this afternoon in southern Finland.

At the same time, military advances to the capital stated that large numbers of Russian reinforcements were arriving at various fronts in preparation for a new Red army offensive and that large numbers of Soviet troops had been dropped on the Karelian Isthmus behind the Finnish lines by parachute from huge Soviet bombers.

Despite unfavorable weather a large squadron of Russian planes raided and bombed the district where most of the Helsinki diplomatic corps resided.

May Enlarge U. S. Navy In Atlantic

Major Step Is Being Studied

Large Number Of Cruisers, Destroyers, And Lesser Craft, To Be Added

NO WEAKENING OF PACIFIC FLEET

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—A major enlargement of American naval forces in the Atlantic is contemplated in confidential navy department defense plans it was learned today.

These plans envisage the addition of a large number of cruisers, destroyers and lesser warcraft to the present small-sized Atlantic naval squadron.

Building up the naval forces in the Atlantic will require several years and the expansion of this eastern fleet will be confined to vessels below the battleship category.

Strengthen Forces

The ships to be assigned to service off the east coast principally will be over-age vessels eventually withdrawn from the main battle-fleet in the Pacific. There will be no weakening of the west coast fleet through these withdrawals since virtually all new warship tonnage is placed into service in the Pacific.

Although the Navy relies largely on British sea power to guard the Atlantic, naval strategists feel that the American defense forces in the east should be strengthened in the light of world conditions.

The Atlantic squadron has been augmented in recent months through the recommissioning of approximately 70 old destroyers, most of which are being assigned to neutrality patrol activities within the western hemisphere "safety belt."

direct hit on Schoenfeld's residence, penetrating the roof and burying itself in the foundations. This bomb failed to explode but half a dozen other bombs which exploded nearby wrecked the house.

Many small towns were transformed into deadly furnaces of flames and explosions by falling bombs. In some cities, it was reported, the Soviet planes dived low to machine-gun fleeing civilians.

Some of the hundreds of Russian planes were shot down, but despite the effectiveness of the Finnish precautions it was reported that many lives had been lost.

Attack In Waves

Attacking in waves the Russians concentrated on port cities and other centers near the Gulf of Finland, aiming at breaking Finnish sea communications. An official communiqué estimated yesterday's dead at 15 killed and several dozen wounded in Nystad, Kokemaki, Eura, Tampere and Lahti, but it was believed complete details would increase these figures considerably.

One group of Soviet aircraft rained bombs on the industrial area of Helsinki, causing great damage to the workers' district, but no casualties estimate there was given out.

Meanwhile, the Finns suffered a naval defeat in the Gulf of Bothnia with disclosure that a Soviet submarine torpedoed the armed convoy ship Aura, which was leading a group of Finnish vessels to a port.

Win Land Victories

An official military communiqué said the Finns on the eastern frontier won new land victories, capturing seven Russian tanks and destroying two Russian anti-tank guns.

In addition, Finnish planes bombed Russian warships, according to the communiqué, which stated:

"There was the usual patrol activity and harassing artillery fire on the Carlskrona Isthmus. The enemy attacked on the eastern frontier in the direction of Ilomantsi but was thrust back to its starting point."

"Elsewhere there was lively reconnaissance and patrol activity which resulted in skirmishes with the enemy. They suffered considerable losses of men and materials. Seven tanks were destroyed and two anti-tank guns were captured."

Mentioning that 15 persons were known to have been killed in the Soviet air raids, the communiqué added:

"Finnish airmen attacked and bombed Russian vessels. Two enemy planes were downed."

Rev. Fr. Galvin Speaks

The main speaker of the morning was Rev. Fr. William F. Galvin, of St. Mary's church. He chose as his subject, "The Pride of Catholics-Americans," which was well received. Father Galvin emphasized that the better catholic a man is the better the American he will be. He also stressed the point that the American doctrine of democracy is Christian in principle and by following the principles of Christianity, we make America what it is desired to be—"the land of the free and the home of the brave." Father Galvin concluded his interesting subject with the reminder that brave men keep a land free and at peace.

Benediction at the close of the affair, was given by Rev. Fr. Janok.

The breakfast, which was a great success in spite of inclement weather, was in charge of the general chairman, Luke Egan; and his assistants, James T. Carey, Roger Dorcy, Hugh Dougherty, John Newnham, Ambrose Ryan, Dr. Martin McCann, and John Lukas.

At the library desk, where she was a familiar figure for so long, she will be sadly missed by the book reading citizens of New Castle. She had a kind, friendly personality; she liked people and she liked being at the library desk to greet and serve them. It was a great comfort to her in her illness, to know that when she was well, she would be back in the library.

Two sisters, Mrs. Luella G. Brownlee and Mrs. Mary Geddes Campbell of New Castle and two brothers, Dr. Charles P. Geddes, of Pittsburgh, and George D. Geddes, survive.

Friends may call at the Jos. B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter. The family will be there to receive friends this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. STATE TROOPER IS GIVEN ACQUITTAL

ards said: "We took our time to consider all the evidence, and there was no disagreement."

Following his acquittal, Franklin was permitted to sign his own bond of $2,500 in view of involuntary manslaughter charges pending against him. Court veterans predicted, however, that District Attorney Albert Heimbach would prosecute the remaining indictment.

Trooper Happy

"I am very happy," said the state trooper as he embraced his pretty wife. "This verdict vindicates me and the Pennsylvania Motor Police. It will be a real joy to go back to my duties, my name clear of these charges."

Franklin's exoneration came as a climax to a week-long trial that kept this Carbon county mountain town at a fever pitch of excitement. His defense was that he fired eight bullets into Joan's 87-pound body because she threatened him and Private Edward Swail with a toy pistol which appeared genuine.

To Be Reinstated

The trooper, namesake and descendant of the early American statesman, will receive back pay of $1500 which accrued during his suspension from duty. The involuntary manslaughter charge hanging over him will not prevent his reinstatement, it was reported.

Conviction and possible sentencing to 20 years in prison faced Franklin when the jury retired late Saturday night. The jurors had heard Judge Semmel E. Shull explain possible verdicts and warn them to ignore any hysterical courtroom outburst by Joan's mother, who was not present when the decision was read.

The mother had fainted several times during the trial, during which defense chief Ben Branch and Franklin described her daughter as

WHOLESALE FUNERAL SUPPLIES

316-320 East North St. 656 Wick Avenue, New Castle, Pa. Youngstown, O. Phone 56 Phone 66616

Even though New Castle has been losing some of its business establishments, there is still an establishment in New Castle that many cities a great deal larger would be proud to have.

This concern is the Wholesale Funeral Supply House at 316-320 East North Street, where funeral directors may bring their patrons, and in place of showing them a few caskets, some of which they have had in stock for many years, they can show them fifty or more of all new stock and not manufactured by one concern, but by fourteen of the largest concerns in the country.

Because we are in the funeral director business also is no reason that they are buying from a funeral director. These two establishments, even though in the same building, are separate from one another.

There was a time when people were satisfied to buy a casket from a catalog, but that time is past, and people are demanding to see the goods they purchase, and also to see a large selection. Besides caskets, we have everything used by the funeral director. And, as we manufacture our own dresses and blankets, they are not ordinary funeral garments, but ones that any person could wear.

DELUGE OF AIRCRAFT ORDERS

MANY business prognosticators are still guessing about the course of industry this year. But there is no guess-work about that branch of industry represented by aircraft manufacturing. It is steadily accumulating orders which will keep it in clover throughout this year and beyond.

During December orders placed with the principal aircraft companies of the United States totaled $75,000,000 while deliveries were only $25,000,000. Thus the companies are getting about three times the volume of orders that can be filled at the present rate of manufacture. During all of 1939 the companies took $715,000,000 of new business while delivering $238,000,000 in completed planes to buyers.

The tremendous tempo of 1939 buying is evident in the fact that unfilled business on the books a year ago totalled $156,000,000 while it is now $648,000,000. And these figures do not include a large amount of accessory and equipment business.

With war threatening to expand in Europe, it is a safe prediction that the aircraft companies will continue to have more than they can do in 1940 even after plant additions are completed. Germany and the Allies are reported now to be turning out 1,200 war planes each per month. But the Allies have the advantage of availability of American planes and they will work that advantage to the limit.

PURGE EFFECT ON RED ARMY

Russia's military policy of shooting somebody in the Soviet Army when things go wrong seems to be completing a vicious circle. This had its most notable exposition in the large-scale purge of Red Army officers several years ago.

Officers who were not politically satisfactory were "removed" by the stone wall method. It has since behooved other officers to be politically satisfactory, if nothing else.

Perhaps this explains partly what happened in Finland. A campaign run by Comrades and Commissars collapsed.

Now come reports that 100 officers have been abruptly summoned back home "some" to face trial before "special courts."

The "shoot the officers" system ruins morale and contributes to defeat. The Soviet cure is to shoot more officers.

It's bad for the Russians, but seems to have been good for the Finns.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

DIONNES AT NEW YORK FAIR?

Since the King and Queen of England left Canada last summer there has not been much news of the Dionne quintuplets. Presumably, they have been living their sequestered lives, adding inches to girth and height, still somewhat unaware of the remarkable place they hold in the public mind.

Now they break into the headlines again as possible substitutes for the Soviet Pavilion at the New York fair next summer. This is fame. The idea that five little girls can compete with the pride of Russia, which covered 100,000 square feet of space and drew 16,500,000 visitors last summer is not only fantastic—it is true.

The quintuplets, if installed in a summer home in Flushing Meadows, might just possibly bring the quota of fair visitors to the desired 60,000,000 mark. The brightest minds connected with the fair have failed to think of any other attraction, single or quintuple, which might turn the trick.

Some day the quintuplets may take pride in the fact that they were considered a better drawing card than the Pavilion of the Soviets. But one hopes that they will not be on hand to prove the contention next summer. How they could be shielded from constant interruption from all the hurly-burly of the fair grounds, is more than the human mind can imagine.

Even if they were given the most modern of sound-proof dwellings covering the whole space recently occupied by the Russian building, something of the unnatural outside atmosphere would certainly creep in. The fair will do very well without the Soviet Pavilion. And the quintuplets will do very well without the fair.

ALIBI FOR WICKEDNESS

From time immemorial man has sought an alibi for his mistakes and his evil acts. The ancients picked on Fate, or the Eumenides. In the Christian era, Satan was blamed for promptings to wickedness. With the beginning of science, heredity was a favorite scapegoat. More lately, environment and social conditions have been accused of breeding vice. On the biological side, glands have been called in to help wash man's sins away.

But some contemporary apologists have hit upon a more convenient excuse—sun spots. According to their theory the solar disturbances that produce these spots have a strong influence over mass emotions and therefore human behavior. In fact, they try to prove that most of the wars and upheavals of this earth occur at the peak of the 11-year cycle of sun spots.

Anyway that's the way it worked out during the World War; and when the spots began to abate in 1918 what should come along but the Armistice!

Of late the Abbe Theodore Moreux famous astronomer of the Bourges Observatory has been watching the sun with more than ordinary interest. Discovering that the sun spots are diminishing, he hazards the opinion that the European war ought to end in 1940.

That is a pleasant prospect. But suppose the war doesn't end on schedule? Suppose that the great offensive which Prime Minister Chamberlain predicts should visit destruction on the nations of the world.

In that case, it shall be necessary either to relegate the theory of the malign influence of sun spots on human behavior to the limbo of forgotten superstitions, along with Fate and Satan and inherited evil, or else conclude man has become so cantankerous that while he will respond to wicked stimuli he is getting immune to the antidotes.

If Finland were just a little bigger the chances are it could solve all of Europe's troubles singlehanded.

Turkish earthquakes disturbed the earth sixteen miles down in spots. This old terrestrial ball is a good deal of a shell.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

DADS WORTHY OF THE NAME

We Dads sometimes overlook the fact that we are dads. To do so is very easy for us. The mother of our young children is so used to looking after them that we, even when we are home with nothing else to do, may let her go on doing for them alone.

It all depends upon our attitude whether helping with the little children worries us or not. Indeed, it is possible to find such assistance by us a real recreation.

If we fool ourselves to believe we, as the bread winners, have already done a hard day's work and should rest and not be bothered with such matters as helping care for babies, we only increase our weariness. But if we dads think of such co-operation as a happy privilege to make a little lighter our home comrades' heavy cares, we shall not think of having added to our day of labor. If, moreover, we find an opportunity to help with our little children, doing for them what they cannot do themselves, and directing their amusements, we may experience real enjoyment.

Make Everybody Happier

To take the toddler out for a walk, to attract several other little children to his sand box on the lawn or into the house among his toys, to read to him from pictured story books, to answer all his questions and to take time enough to express enjoyment at his toy creations or his yarns of fancy, is to make him and the whole family happier.

We dads also should learn to be companionable with the older children. They should find us treating them as grown-ups, enjoying their conversation, rejoicing at the accounts of their successes and sympathizing with them in their smallest griefs. We should not let our newspaper or book claim our whole attention, allow ourselves merely to give absent-minded answers to their questions, or permit ourselves to seem bored when they wish to talk to us.

We dads should have some interesting experiences to relate, some funny stories to tell and learn to be delighted when a child tells a joke.

If we dads are really dads, we will be courteous to our children and extend to them and mother the nice amenities of life. Our voice will be considerate and kind. We won't be so mean as to yell at them, scold and say ugly things. We shall not whine and grumble. We shall not act like spoiled children, but as grown-ups even as dads. When we find it necessary to discipline the children, we shall do so intelligently, keeping ourselves entirely calm and self-controlled. And as soon as the matter has been dealt with, we shall dismiss it suddenly and forever, acting instantly as if nothing irregular had ever happened.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HATTIE McDANIEL

The picture "Gone With the Wind" shown at Atlanta, Georgia, stirred that city its very depths. It is probably the Picture of 1940 and was made in great triumph. Victor Fleming, its director, spent many sleepless nights and equally sleepless days in piecing together many pictures taken in order to make it a worthwhile whole. The picking of the principals required a great deal of thought. It was easy enough to pick Clark Gable, but the rest of them was no easy.

One of the principals was a Find. She it is that takes the part of the real Boss of Terra—the negro who was the housekeeper. I do not know where they found Hattie McDaniel, but they did find her and the critics say "she has stolen the picture."

One who attended the first night performance in Los Angeles tells that he was a little bit late entering the theater and found it dark. He sneaked into a seat near the back and as the great picture began to show, it became evident, somehow, that somebody there in the darkness near him was getting even a greater thrill out of it than was he.

When the lights went on, he understood. Two seats along the row from him was Hattie McDaniel. Someone turned to her and said, "Hattie, do you enjoy acting in the pictures?" "Yes, honey—I sure do," she replied.

Hattie weighs two hundred ninety pounds and beams with every ounce. Her dad was a hard-shell Baptist preacher and Hattie regards as her most outstanding accomplishment the winning of a medal for reciting "Convict Joe" before the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Denver. Hattie's last non-professional job was that of ladies' room attendant at Sam Pick's Suburban Inn, near Milwaukee. One night the entertainers went home before the guests and the management sent out a call for help. Hattie bounced right out of the ladies' room singing the "St. Louis Blues" at the top of her lungs and never went back.

CHARGING ON

At the medical school a group of students was enjoying the privilege of being addressed by a man who had a big name in his profession.

"Swinging to a discussion of fees, the big medico said this was a most important phase of medicine.

"The established specialist makes the biggest money," he said. "To take my own case, I charge $25 for a call at the residence, $10 for office consultation and $5 for telephone consultation."

The students were properly impressed. Then came a voice from the back of the room. It asked:

"How much do you charge a fellow who passes you on the street?"

"I don't believe a word that's in the Bible." The reader paid no attention to the sinner, who made the same remark three times, each time getting louder. Finally the quiet man who had been reading the Bible turned to the stranger, and said:

"Will you please go to hell quietly?"

What's What At A Glance

Congress Needs Finance Wizard
Seek Advice On Government Cost
Increasing Debt Causes Worries

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

Washington, Jan. 15.

WANTED—

A financial wizard who can tell congress how to cut down the cost of government, as a whole, without reducing any single item of its expenditures. Or, if the wizard can't do that, let him explain how it can go on spending at its present rate without running a few annual billions into the red, as it's been doing for the past decade, but also without any increase in taxation.

A wizard who can solve one or the other of both of these two problems can count on a liberal reward from Capitol Hill, if he'll go ahead and do it. Even if a formal appropriation can't be voted to reward him, I'll bet the lawmakers would subscribe liberally out of their individual pockets to a fund in his behalf.

Senators and representatives, as we know, generally agree that Uncle Sam's already outstanding indebtedness, approaching 45 billions, is a great plenty. Each legislator wants all the others to vote for economy—but no economy as to his own particular state or district. This adds up to the effect that it's next to impossible to get an economy majority in either congressional chamber.

There's an antidote to increasing deficits—higher taxes. But what solon likes to vote for higher taxes, especially in an election year? Echo answers, "Not one of 'em—with the lone exception of Senator Robert M. La Follette, who's advocated stiffer levies on income taxpayers."

Hard-boiled Mr. Morgenthau Congress tries to put the puzzle up to the treasury, which hands it right back again—and mighty successfully.

Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau takes this hard-boiled attitude:

"You senators and representatives decree certain expenditures. Then you provide certain taxes to foot the bill. The taxes you provide aren't sufficient to do it. So we run into the hole."

"Whose fault is it? Yours, of course. It's none of my executive responsibility."

It's an argument which congress finds it very difficult to reply to satisfactorily. It irritates the legislators, however. They point out among themselves (not for publication) that Secretary Morgenthau can afford to be brash and sassy because his job's appointive; he isn't answerable to a lot of voters, as they are. He only has to have President Roosevelt's approval and the president's sides with him.

More Business, More Taxes

The administration's theory is that improving business will increase the total of tax collections without increasing the rate. That is to say:

Suppose a concern pays 10 percent to the government on a million dollars' worth of business annually. And suppose its business gets so much better that its million is transformed into two millions. The government accordingly gets twice as much as it previously was getting, without any increase in the 10 percent levy.

That's how administration economists reason. It's the correct way, they assure us, to wipe out our deficits in future and to start liquidating the indebtedness we've already accumulated.

It sounds attractive.

Pessimists suggest, though that prosperity will have to "go some" to get the country back on a spot cash basis hereafter, to say nothing of cancelling the 40-odd billion collection of deficits that it's piled up thus far.

What's Worrying Congress? Anyway, what's worrying congress is how to meet the immediate situation.

For relieving discomforts of colds and night coughs, rub VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. VapoRub's poultice-vapor action relieves congestion of chest and back muscles—helps the youngster relax into healing sleep.

✓ For coughing and irritated throat caused by colds, put VapoRub on the child's tongue to relieve the irritation. Then massage VapoRub on throat and chest.

✓ For "sniffles" and misery of head colds, melt VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water. Have the child breathe in the steamy vapors. This loosens phlegm, clears air passages, makes breathing easier. Also massage VapoRub on throat and chest. Millions of families use these three time-tested treatments.

An open letter to the motoring public

Advertising writers can't make gasoline.

A bombardment of claims and counter claims has broken loose—and it may confuse the purchaser of gasoline.

Since the public has a right to be accurately informed about the gasolines sold today, the American Oil Company wishes to make a statement of policy regarding its regular gasoline and special motor fuel.

Comparing the quality of crude is not enough. Comparing anti-knock is not enough. It is the sum total of all the desirable quality characteristics that makes a good gasoline or motor fuel.

This constitutes the only real yardstick for comparison. Fair comparisons should take in every quality a good gasoline or motor fuel should have.

During the 29 years of its existence, the American Oil Company has not found it necessary to change the names of its products. Throughout all of this period, it has kept faith by constantly improving its products.

The American Oil Company has the largest and most modern refining units in the world.

The achievements of its scientists and engineers have been recognized as among the most important advances in chemical engineering.

The American Oil Company has the resources and facilities to furnish the best products and the highest values obtainable from crude petroleum.

The Great Game Of Politics

Democratic national committee, but also to the Hyde Park memorial fund, so assiduously gathered from the wealthy by Mr. Frank Walker, personal friend of the President.

THE senatorial candidacy of Mr. Cromwell is not only generally recognized, but is admitted by himself. Immediately after his appointment he declared that he might ask for a month off next fall to run for the Senate. That something was needed to give Mr. Cromwell strength as a candidate is clear when it is recalled that he has only been voting in New Jersey since 1935 and that he once wrote a book in which he spoke favorably of birth control—not a thing to commend him to a great many Hudson county voters.

OF COURSE, it may do Mr. Roosevelt injustice to intimate that these two New Jersey appointments, simultaneously made, were due to a desire to build them up for New Jersey nominations, which can only be gained through the favor of Mr. Hague. Nevertheless, no other even plausible reason has been given for the appointment of Mr. Cromwell, who makes no secret that he does not intend to stay in Ottawa, but hopes to run for the Senate as soon as "things are settled in New Jersey." The theory that Hague's interests have been served is generally accepted in political circles and the appointments are not easy to explain on any other basis.

THE Cromwell senatorial candidacy is particularly pleasing to the New Jersey Democrats, who feel that their situation makes it essential to nominate a man able to finance the campaign single-handedly. Mr. Cromwell certainly is such a man, and almost incredible stories of the amount of money expected thus to be available in New Jersey are current in Washington. In the meantime, the astute Mr. Hague, in whose vest pocket the New Jersey delegation to the Democratic convention will be, is in Florida unperturbed by the Hudson county investigation and pretty well pleased with the prospect generally. It will be interesting to observe the developments in New Jersey politics next summer.

Italian Methodist Revival Is Opened

The revival at the Italian Methodist church opened with four services yesterday which proved to be a day of great blessing to the splendid gathering of people who attended.

The keynote address of the campaign, which thrilled and inspired the large morning congregation was delivered by the Rev. Dr. W. E. Earle, who is the head of the Grove City district of the Methodist church. He took for his subject "A Witnessing Church" and emphasized the fact that never more than today a witnessing church was needed for the redemption of this war torn world.

One of the most unusual scenes was the reception into the membership of the church by the pastor, Rev. F. P. Sulmonetti, a whole family of ten together with their father and mother and their grandfather and grandmother, both past 80 years of age, making a total of 14 in all.

The evangelist, Rev. A. G. Previte, delivered three fine addresses.

Pilots And Planes Show Gain In Pennsylvania

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 15.—The year of 1939 brought an increase of 154 in the number of airplanes and a gain of 547 in the number of licensed pilots in Pennsylvania, according to figures released today by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

On January 1, 1940, the Keystone State was credited with 888 certified planes, 18 uncertified planes, and 1882 licensed pilots. On January 1, 1939, the state had only 732 certified planes, 20 uncertified planes, and 1335 licensed pilots. At the beginning of this year, Pennsylvania ranked third of the states both in certified planes and licensed pilots. California and New York coming first and second respectively.

The number of gliders in Pennsylvania remained unchanged at 13 last year. Glider pilots, however, dropped in number from 14 to 12.

January is a cold and dismal month when you realize that Christmas generosity is caused by the holiday spirit and a charge account.

Gets Report On Relief Activity

Chairman Davis Of Red Cross Chapter Given Summary Of War Relief

MILLION DOLLARS SET UP FOR AID

R. F. Davis, chairman of the Lawrence County Chapter of the American Red Cross has just received a complete summary of the Red Cross War Relief activities in Europe from Sept. 1 to Jan. 5. Four months of war have had a heavy hand on Europe. Five nations are engaged in hostilities; one nation has fallen; at least six others are harboring refugees. As the war is prolonged, needs for relief from the outside world daily grow more acute.

Europe's gravest relief problems today center around the mass movement of populations and the confusion resulting from the disorganization of national life. To fulfill its international obligations, the American Red Cross has set up an emergency fund of one million dollars for impartial relief of the war-stricken. To date $358,881 has been spent.

Chaffield Taylor that hundreds of thousands of Finnish women, children and aged men, fleeing west from the danger zones, need immediate medical care and clothing. The threat of typhus and other oriental diseases has prompted the Red Cross to send two American physicians, stationed in Europe by the U. S. Public Health Service, to Finland. Ten ambulances are being prepared in this country for immediate shipment to Helsinki.

Polish Relief

The problem confronting the Polish people is equally desperate. Approximately 150,000 non-combatants and refugee soldiers have fled to the neighboring countries of Hungary, Roumania, Lithuania, Yugoslavia and Latvia. Within German-occupied Poland, American Red Cross representatives have found a scattered population gradually attempting to resume a normal mode of life. Health problems have arisen and a desperate need for clothing is reported. Surgical dressings and garments produced by Red Cross chapters in the United States are being shipped with the stricken areas via Trieste to Cracow where they are being allocated to the Polish Red Cross.

Delegate Reports

On December 26, Ernest J. Swift, vice chairman of the American Red Cross, returned to Washington after a three-months survey of relief needs in Europe. Mr. Swift said in part:

"Refugees from Poland present a particularly difficult problem. They are scattered throughout the Balkan countries while the Baltic States also have their share. Altogether there are more than one hundred thousand Polish refugees, both military and civilian in Latvia, Lithuania, Hungary, Yugoslavia and Roumania. In all of these countries the American Red Cross has furnished warm clothing, medical and surgical supplies and in some instances food, their aid being supplemental to that furnished by governmental and private agencies."

"In Poland, through an arrangement made with the German authorities while we were in Berlin, relief in the form of medical aid and clothing is now being distributed through Polish committees to Christians and Jews alike."

Food is plentiful in Poland, but medical supplies and warm clothing are desperately needed. Epidemics have been avoided so far, but in wrecked Warsaw, with its congestion and disorganized life, danger of typhoid and typhus would be imminent without adequate medical and sanitary assistance."

S.S.S. Tonic is the choice to increase the appetite...to boost energy

COUNTLESS thousands of men and women can testify to the benefits S.S.S. Tonic has brought them.

The facts are simple because of all conditions affecting the human body a low blood count is most deceptive. If you feel rundown... lack a keen appetite... have lost weight... don't give up until you restore those precious red blood-cells back to normal.

S.S.S. Tonic may be just what you need to get you on the right road to health and happiness again.

In S.S.S. Tonic you go after the trouble in two ways... first you increase the appetite and better your stomach digestion—thus making better use of the food you eat—secondly, thin, weak, watery blood is made rich and red again thus giving you a boost in energy.

Try S.S.S., which any drug store can supply and no ethical dealer will suggest a substitute. The big 20 oz. size is a two week's treatment and represents a saving in the purchase price of S.S.S. Co.

MY JOB IS SPEED— BUT MY SMOKE IS SLOW-BURNING CAMELS

TAKING IT EASY, Engineer Bronson says: "No speed for me in my cigarette. That slower-burning feature makes sense to me. I've been a Camel smoker for years. I know Camels are milder and always taste swell. And I don't object a bit to getting those extra smokes per pack."

FAST BURNING —creates hot flat taste in smoke... ruins delicate flavor, aroma...

SLOW BURNING —protects natural qualities that mean mildness, thrilling taste, fragrance... a cooler smoke...

THE CENTURY READY TO "HIGHBALL," as they say in railroading! Engineer Walter L. Bronson (above) swings up into the cab of Number 5449, one of the big Hudson type locomotives which flash at 80 miles an hour across the landscape between New York and Chicago in a day-in, day-out epic of modern railroad speed.

HERE'S EXTRA MILDNESS, EXTRA COOLNESS, AND EXTRA FLAVOR, and here's why: Camels are slower-burning. They have thoroughbred quality through and through. Finer, more expensive tobaccos are used, in the first place. And these choice tobaccos are combined into a matchless blend.

Smokers: SAVE THE COST OF THE STATE CIGARETTE TAX

Smokers who live in communities where certain state cigarette taxes are in effect can save the cost of the tax—and, in some instances, more—through smoking Camels. (See right.) When you are a Camel smoker, you get this unique economy—and all the extra enjoyment of cooler, milder smoking—the fragrance and delicate taste of finer, more costly tobaccos.

In recent laboratory tests, CAMELS burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

JEALOUSY IN CHILDREN

I have received a number of letters concerning the column devoted to a few weeks ago to the jealousy that a new baby may arouse in older children in the home, indicating that this is a problem very close to many parents. Some of the letters relate very sad stories about this jealousy. Some tell how the problem was met with and overcome.

One woman hadn't thought of her older child feeling anything except loving interest in the new arrival, until two things happened. The baby began to have a succession of small bruise marks of mysterious origin. Its older brother began to act very peculiarly, he was glum and very irritable, in the presence of the baby. At first the mother had no idea that there was any connection between the two things, and she was worried about the older boy. She was afraid he was ill, that he had become "run down" while she was confined. Then one day she happened to discover the boy pinching the baby.

The boy had been the center of his parents' attention before the new baby came. Then he found himself relatively neglected. The whole household seemed to revolve around the newcomer, its mealtimes and sleeping hours seemed to be more important than anything that pertained to him. He seemed not to count any more. And the parents had taken it for granted that he would love the baby as they did.

Other letters indicate that this woman's experience, happening when it did, was a fortunate one. Many parents never are given such a timely jolt and remain blissfully unaware that strong psychological forces are at work warping an older child's whole outlook on life.

Another letter criticizes me for not making it plainer in the earlier column that preparation of an older child for an addition to the family should begin long before the event. First of all, his training should be directed toward making him self-reliant. He should have the habit of doing things for himself by the time another child becomes the center of attention in the home. The more he is used to doing things for himself, the less he will notice and be affected by deviation of attention from himself to a newcomer.

It helps if the older child has reached an age that permits him to be included in the family anticipation of and plans for the great event. A natural interest in a forthcoming brother or sister is intensified if the child is made aware of the drama of birth, and he will look forward to the event with almost as much anticipation as you do yourself.

Let your children feel about the coming of a baby brother or sister as they do about a visit of Santa Claus. Tell them that when the baby arrives everyone in the house must get busy and make the newcomer welcome and comfortable. Encourage the idea that the new brother and sister, so small and helpless, will need their help in many ways. Make it clear that the expected baby will belong, not merely to the mother and father, but to them also.

All this will inculcate a pleasant feeling of "grownupness" and give the other children a sense of responsibility toward the newcomer. After the baby has come it's a good idea to give each brother and sister some simple chore in connection with its daily routine. This chore, however, shouldn't be a tiresome or unpleasant task that will arouse resentment. Let him help you bathe the baby, and ask his advice. My, how important he'll feel when you do that!

It is important, too, that parents remember not to neglect an older child too much because of a baby. Find some time each day, if only five minutes, in which you give your attention to him exclusively. "Baby" the older child some, too.

Dog owners practically took over the county treasurer's office on Saturday morning. From the windows where the dog licenses were being issued there was a line of applicants out into the hall, all endeavoring to get a tag for Fido or Sport before the deadline on January 15.

At noon Saturday the total was nearly 1400 and by Monday night it should go to 1600. Usually about 4-6000 licenses are issued in January and by March the total goes to about 7000 or 8000. Beginning Monday or Tuesday Dog Enforcement Officer McClurg expects to begin checking up on the dogs who have no licenses. Arrests may be made.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday a representative of the Internal Revenue Department will be in the court house to assist taxpayers in the preparation of their personal property tax returns.

Money at interest, certain stocks and bonds and mortgages are included in personal property and the state levies a four mill tax. The service is free to taxpayers wishing to make a return.

An interesting question will be placed before the court soon it is anticipated. The question will be to determine who died first, Ignatz Dombrowski or his nephew Edward. Months ago the two men were found dead beside an automobile in the Hog Hollow district, apparently a murder and suicide. Now an insurance company wants to know which of the pair died first in order to determine who gets the face of an insurance policy.

ORIGIN OF SHEEP

HARRISBURG, Jan. —Domestication of sheep is so remote that their origin cannot be definitely established. Since man found it to his advantage to protect and care for the migratory sheep, tame sheep were under man's supervision and care at least 12 to 15 thousand years B. C.

To offset unethical activities of collectors for so-called charity movements, the Legislature of 1935 enacted the Solicitation Law. A fee of ten dollars is paid by each agency licensed under provisions of this Act to seek funds in Pennsylvania. The fees cover the cost of administering the law. Graduates Hear Baccalaureate

Mid Year Ellwood City High Class Is Addressed By Rev. H. M. Patton

LARGE CROWD AT SUNDAY EVENT

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—"And who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?" the question of Mordecai of Old Testament history, that stirred Queen Esther to save her people, the Jews, from destruction, was used as a fitting test for baccalaureate sermon to the January graduating class of Lincoln High school last night at the school auditorium.

Many relatives and friends of the graduates gathered with the class to hear the splendid address by Rev. Herman M. Patton, pastor of the First Christian church.

Boys and girls no longer spend long hours reading Horatio Alger success stories, not because there is a revolution in literary tastes but because there is a change in the spiritual structure of the world. The characters are not in the world of every day affairs, the story does not interpret the life of our day and industry doesn't find such rewards. To succeed today, a philosophy based on a purpose to fulfill an indispensable rule making life a venture, must be formulated, Rev. Patton declared.

Defeatist Attitude False
A defeatist attitude, believing this is a hum drum, prosaic world with all important things already accomplished, is dangerous because it is false. "Nothing has been accomplished but a method to invent inventions," Walter Lippman has observed. There is some great thing lacking when empire state buildings cast their shadows over beggars. This is an age of unfinished business.

Wherever there is great work to be done destiny utters the same words. "And who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?" Destiny leaves a question mark and demands sacrifices and those that are to pay are never named. "Don't spend your life waiting for a minute to step forth into the glory of some accomplished feat, but if you want adventure step forth at once to great, creative living," the speaker told the class and then continued, "God has not appointed a choice few for momentous tasks." Great leaders in the world of religion, science, invention were named and the speaker described some of the great obstacles they had overcome. In conclusion, he said, "A magnet of service can attract only those that are tuned to that power. No one can change the power we make."

Rev. T. H. Carson, pastor of the First Methodist church, presided. Commencement exercises will be held on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock with Dr. Lee M. Thurston, professor of education, University of Pittsburgh as the guest speaker.

Cold Finish Tops Inspection 42-33 To Take Possession Of Third Place

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—In a thrilling contest in which the lead changed hands quickly in the final period, the second place Office five nosed out the fighting Mechanical team 40 to 39 Saturday night in the Shelby loop games.

Ellwood Cagers At New Brighton School Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 15.—With badly needed confidence gained by their victory over Butler high last Friday night, the Ellwood basketball team will try to make it two in a row tonight when they invade New Brighton. The game is being played today owing to the commencement exercises on Tuesday night.

Pleased with the outcome of the contest Friday, Coach Jerry Newton has decided to use the same starting lineup with Tanner and Matrangol, forwards; Miller, center; and Murphy and Seetch, guards. Two of the Reserves are on the ailing list, Joe Lantz with grippe, and Cartwright, with an ankle injury sustained at New Castle, cutting Newton's squad to eight players.

New Brighton has failed to gain a victory in the section games and will unquestionably be putting forth their best effort to break their losing streak.

The Reserves will also play in a preliminary battle. Two members of that team are ill too, Paul Hough and Lewis DiBago.

New Castle Airport Is Mentioned In Congress Debate On U. S. Defense

By ARTHUR C. WISER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 15.—New Castle's airport won mention in the House of Representatives during the debate on the emergency national defense appropriation bill now on its way through Congress.

Representative Snyder of Pennsylvania, chairman of the military appropriations sub-committee, has taken the floor to urge development of more airports in this country. He lauded establishment of an airport at such industrial cities as New Castle but insisted this was not adequate for real national defense.

"We should," he insisted, "not only have airports at such places as New Castle, Butler, Kittanning, Vandergrift, Greensburg, Indiana, Beaver, Latrobe, Somerset, Uniontown, Waynesburg and Washington, but we should have selected and mapped out level farm fields for emergencies. Arrangements should be made in advance with the farmers, just like we make with industry, that in case of a national emergency their fields would be used for landing purposes."

Mr. Snyder clearly indicated he thought the New Castle and other airports of that area would have great military value in protecting the Pittsburgh industrial area in war time.

District Family Of Four Provides Unusual Case Under Social Security

One "district family" of four—the father and mother and their two little girls—will be eligible for almost $8,000 of the federal government's social security benefits by the time the youngest of the girls—she's just four today—reaches her 18th birthday, Weiland J. Michael, manager of the New Castle district field office in the Johnson building disclosed today.

The family—it could only be referred to as a "family" in the four-county New Castle district—will be eligible to be calculated for a total of $7,938 providing, of course, the father, who is now 65, lives to the age of 79. That is the probable life limit under social security tables.

Should the father die before he is 79, the widow will receive three-fourths of the primary insurance payments. His wife is now 37, and when she is 65, if she lives, she'll be eligible for three-fourths of the primary payments.

"Primary payments," it was explained, are those which are paid direct to the father the basis of his own eligibility.

Manager Michael said the two daughters are both small—the one is four and the other six.

The case is considered an unusual one.

Preparations for the first local payments under the social security act were being rushed today, and Michael estimated "we'll have 150 claims to start paying out" on January 31. The checks are to be ready to go out that day—they did not go out January 1. The first checks, however, will be for the month of January.

Bessemer Troop Wins Boy Scout Rifle Contest

Merit Badge Marksmanship Match Staged At Troop K Armory Saturday

Annual merit badge marksmanship rifle match for Boy Scout troops in Lawrence county was held with success Saturday morning at Troop K Armory, near Cascade Park. Troop 1 of Bessemer took first place.

Troop 3 from the First United Presbyterian church, this city, was second. Troop 1, Neshaunock township, was third, and troop 2 of the First Baptist church came in for fourth honors.

The Scouts fired five rounds from the 50-foot range at a regulation target. Captain George Seifert, commander of the cavalry troop, was in charge of the match, and he was assisted by some of the troop members and scouters from the county council.

The Lawrence County Sportsmen's association furnished the ammunition for the match to enable the Scouts to qualify for the marksmanship merit badge.

Scoutmaster Don King of Bessemer was in charge of the winning team, which was made up of Scouts Hardesty, P. Johnson, Moses, Conner and H. Johnson. Scoutmaster E. D. Hawk was in charge of troop 3. Scoutmasters Tanney and McCluskey were in charge of troop 1 of Neshaunock, and Scoutmaster Frank Hay was in charge of troop 2.

Safety precautions and the sportsmen's code were loaned before any individual was allowed to take part in the competition.

Fans Await Eight Amateur Battles In Arena Tonight

Frankie Moran Meets Mike Candella In Feature Bout

OTHER WELL KNOWN BOXERS ON THE CARD

Jabs, crosses, uppercuts, hooks and swings will be distributed promiscuously tonight in the Arena when 16 amateur boxers pair off in eight battles, each of which is destined for three rounds duration. Frankie Moran, this city and Mike Candella, Youngstown, 126 pounders, have been assigned the star role.

Moran has trained faithfully and is reportedly in tiptop condition. Candella, said to possess the Golden Glove title of Youngstown, is also reported in ace shape.

They belong to the better grade of amateur 126-pounders and there should be no dearth of action. They will establish the "Who's Who" of Youngstown and New Castle featherweight.

Chuck Arnett, West Pittsburg and Joey Simms, Youngstown, will fight at 145, in the semi-windup. Arnett in training has been putting a lot of zip into his punches. Joey is a good socker.

Andy Weitz, 142 pound Golden Glove king of Youngstown, who has won more bouts than he has lost, hopes to solve the jumping-jack style of Mike Wukas, a swinger from Alliquippa.

Elwood Slugger To Fight
A slugger vs a boxer will be seen when Benny Bartle of Elwood City tackles the experienced Willie Davies of Youngstown at 175. If Davies has not slipped too far he may make Bartle hustle.

Sonny Horne, Niles, who yet has to disappoint a local audience, will fight Sammy Portland of Monaca at 147 and Fighting Babe Retardo of Elwood City will oppose Eddie Rivers of Youngstown at 118.

Al Vancovich, Monaca, will oppose Melio Donelli, Niles at 135 and the show will be opened when Mike Murphy, this city, makes his last appearance against Everett Johnston, Alliquippa at 175.

The show is being promoted by the Jefferson A. C. with the Retail Grocers of Lawrence county as the sponsor. The fistic endeavor has been sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union and State Athletic commission.

Rudolph, principal of Union Township schools, hustling and bustling to accommodate the crowd, finally found a small opening near the southern end of the goal, the only space available. One of the players crashed into him, knocking him out.

Said condition has existed for sometime, especially so during the

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

Years ago when we used to go and stay all night at our grandmothers, one of the things we planned on doing was to play the Victrola... one record we liked especially was the one about a fellow who was telling about the "Vind"... how it blew down his shutter... and before the record finished he had all mixed up... "Vind" tried to blow down our shutters last night... must have been going at a great rate of speed.

While we are on the topic of weather... can someone answer this question. When a rainbow appears in January, as it did yesterday, what does it mean? It also thundered yesterday... some folks say that means more cold weather... so far we agree with them.

Every now and then we read that great pleasure about the G-Men breaking up a group who have in the back of their minds a plan to overthrow this government. We hope that every such plan is properly taken care of and placed in such a position that they never have time to give the idea of overthrowing this government another thought. Why can't people see the nose on their face... here's to the G-Men and our local police, may they punish every Un-American resident.

Forty years ago people in this locality said that this locality was finished. Hundreds of men sat around waiting for time to pass. The whole world was going to pot... Well, we are still here... and in that forty years that have come and gone progress has marched on... things are better now than they have ever been... automobiles are perfected, airplanes are more near perfect, sanitary conditions are much better, clothing is more comfortable, women have equal rights, towns have grown, industries have expanded and people are more settled.

"A Fin For Finland"... a slogan that is becoming more and more popular in these United States... by giving a little over here over here can say to those over there, "We thank you for being the one country that stands by its word". If we only had a little more of the Finnish fighting spirit over here not nearly so many people would be down in the month... and you will find that the Finnish People who are citizens of the United States are real folks and are always ready to help better their adopted government.

Local Scout Week Plans Furthered

Quota For Banquet In Cathedral Ballroom Is Set At 1,200 Persons

"Scouting And Citizenship" will be the topic for the address of Major Lynn G. Adams, head of the Pennsylvania Motor Patrol, who will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet, to be the high-light of the local celebration of National Boy Scout Week.

It is expected that the weeks celebration this year will top anything ever held before here. For the banquet Monday, February 12, in the Cathedral ballroom, the attendance quota has been set at 1,200. The banquet is being scheduled to fit in with the Red Cross Finland-Polish relief benefit party, planned on the same night, in the same building.

In addition to Major Adams, the Polish consul general has accepted an invitation to speak at the banquet, and it is hoped that the Finnish consul may be secured for the occasion.

The Kiwanis club is leading the group of local civic clubs who plan to co-operate with the scouting organization during Boy Scout Week.

The scouting organizations of New Bedford, New Wilmington, Ellwood City, Bessemer and New Castle, the combining their efforts to make this event a success.

Members of the various committees who were named recently by G. S. Bennett, to plan for the coming celebration, are holding meetings regularly in the scout headquarters.

Newsy Notes Of School As Compiled By Robert

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM HELD

A comedy presentation of the Modern School of Tomorrow was presented to the students of Union high school Friday afternoon in the auditorium by William Horene, Alex Chambers, Larry Reagle, Gene Kerr and Frank Koss. This short play proved to be very interesting and amusing to the students.

Fred Tiece, Wendell Morris and Bernice Butts led the students in a few of the school cheers after which Donald McGrew gave a short talk on the junior and senior play. The public address system was handled by Wilbur Abbott and William Allen. The program was directed by Joseph Thompson, a popular member of the Union faculty.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR PLAY

Old John Public has an uncanny way of knowing where the good things are. It is no surprise, then, that he pounces onto this actor-proof laugh-show and immediately tagged it "For immediate use."

The plot concerns a socially ambitious daughter, Laura Morrison, who snubs her small-town lover, drug clerk, Tommy Celer, for the new pro, Conrad Tyler—all at the instigation of the likewise socially ambitious mother, Grace Morrison. Fred Morrison, the father, frames a plot that turns into love consequences through having the younger daughter, Patricia, make a play for Tommy, to bring Laura to her senses. Junior Morrison the son, does a lot in his adolescent way to add humor to the situation, all the time satisfying his mother's caprices by "getting in strong" with Lenore Appleby, the banker's daughter.

The laugh peak of the second act comes when Mrs. Tyler, the wife of the golf professional, appears on the scene and smashes Laura's social ambitions. It is by no means the end of the play. There is suspense till the final curtain, with a last minute finish that is masterly—and satisfying. This play will be held on January 26 in the Union High auditorium.

CLUB PREPARES FOR BANQUET

The Senior Hi-Y club is now preparing for the annual fathers and sons banquet to be held on February 22.

The committees were chosen as follows: Tickets, Larry Reagle; program, Stanley Farrell, Joe Mitchell and Wayne Dieter; decorations, Martin Zimmerman, Ed Reynolds, Walter Swigart and Dale Kegarise; kitchen, Lee Zedaker, Bill Lowers and Galey Sagabiel.

P. T. A. MEETING TONIGHT

The Parents and Teachers association will meet tonight in the high school auditorium for their annual business meeting of the month.

W. F. H. Wentzel, director of humane education of Pittsburgh, will speak at this meeting.

JUNIOR HI-Y MEETS

The Junior Hi-Y club of Union High has held two meetings recently. One meeting was held in the school, at which time the matter of inviting new members into the club was discussed. Arrangements were also made for the members of the club to have basketball practice on Saturdays in the Union high school gymnasium.

During the meeting held at the Y. M. C. A., Robert Ames, the president of the club, gave an interesting report of the Older Boys' Conference held in Butler in December of which he was a delegate.

SCHOOL PRESENTS SHOW

The school presented a movie "Pecks Bad Boy", on Wednesday of last week. The movie proved to be a very interesting and amusing one. A large percentage of the students turned out to see this movie, starring Mickey Rooney.

DANCE TO BE HELD

The annual calico ball will be held on January 17 of this week. It is hoped by the Palette club and Hi-Y club, giving this dance, that there will be a good turnout.

CLUB BECOMES CHAMPION

The Union high school Hi-Y became basketball champions during a recent tournament held at the Y.

CONSTIPATED! Gas Crowds Heart.

"For years I had occasional constipation, headaches and pains in the back. Awful gas bloating seemed to crowd my heart. Adieria always helped right away. Now I eat sausage, bananas, pie, anything I want and never feel better."—Mrs. Mahel Schott. Two things happen when you are constipated. FIRST: Accumulated wastes swell up bowels and press on nerves in the digestive tract. SECOND: Partly digested food starts to decay forming GAS, often bringing on sour stomach, indigestion, and heartburn, bloating you up until you sometimes gasp for breath. Adieria gives double relief with DOUBLE ACTION. BALANCED Adieria contains three laxatives and five eliminative relievers. STOMACH GAS almost at once. It often clears bowels in less than two hours. No griping, no after effects, just quick results.

Recorded at — in Bessemer by Bessemer Drug Store.

M. C. A. between the Hi-Y clubs of New Castle. Union Hi-Y won the championship by defeating the New Castle Hi-Y with a score of 19 to 7.

CLUB PLANS TRIP

The Senior Hi-Y club is now planning for a trip through the New Castle Water plant on Thursday, January 18. It is hoped by the club that they will see things both educational and interesting.

MUSIC SUPERVISORS MEET

A meeting of the music supervisors of Lawrence county will be held in the Union high school auditorium on Wednesday, January 17. Jay G. Rudolph, president of the Lawrence County Forensic league, will give the supervisors preliminary plans for the annual contest. Edward Roncone of Shenango high school will speak on the topic of "Popular Music in the High School." Plans for an all county music festival will be discussed following Leroy Rowley, president of the Lawrence county music supervisors, will be in charge.

ANNUAL DINNER

The congregation of the United Presbyterian church held their annual dinner and business meeting Tuesday evening in the church with a large number in attendance. At 6:30 the assemblage of guests found their places in the dining room.

Following the serving of a delicious twelve dinner the group assembled in the church auditorium where a business session was held, conducted by S. G. McCullough. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: chairman, Joseph Gilmore; secretary, Zula Lusk; treasurer, Ed Ball; auditors, Edward Bradley, Sr., Almyra Pitts and William Casto; trustee Howard Butler. The remainder of the evening was enjoyed socially.

TEA PARTY ENJOYED

The various missionary societies of the United Presbyterian church met Thursday evening in the church with Mrs. Ann Wiggins, president of the Iva M. Hammill society, in charge. Following the devotionals and a brief business session, a very interesting talk was presented by Miss Sally Dickey, field secretary, after which they assembled in the church dining room, where a "tea party" was enjoyed. Margaret Gilmore and Ann Wiggins presided over the tea table.

The committee in charge of the above affair consisted of Esther McCullough, Jennie McFate, Mrs. McCosh, Margaret Miller, Hazel Mack and Harriett Lusk.
